HEROIC RESCUE

Of Helpless Women And Children From a Rabid Dog.

Wallace West Risks His Life In a Single Handed Combat With a Mad Dog.

There are heroes besides those who face death on the field of battle. Sometimes they come to the front in the every day walks of life. Few who read of the brave deed recorded in this article, will hesitate to accord to Wallace West the meed of praise that belongs only to those of noble souls and heroic mold.

Last Sunday morning at the little country Sunday school at Bennetts-town was in session, the children busy with their lessons and the teachers with the minds on sacred things, a strange dog appeared in the open door. He was a large shepherd dog with bloodshot eyes, frothing mouth and suffering from the horrible convulsions of hydrophobia. With vicious snarls he began a ferocious attack upon the children nearest the door.

Pandemonium reigned. Women shrieked, children screamed, old and young, stricken with terror, fled for their lives, only to find themselves helpless to escape. Meanwhile the dog was snapping right and left, chasing the people over the benches. Grated with fear, strong men lost their heads and the instinct of self preservation was uppermost in the minds of all. No, not all, for one young man placed himself between the rabid beast and his would-be victims and gave battle. Agile, strong and courageous, he leaped from side to side, eluding the vicious snarls until seizing a favorable opportunity he jumped upon the dog and closed his iron grip upon the back of his neck. Holding him at arms length, he dragged the dog towards the door and out of the house, while a man was sent hurriedly to secure a pistol. Choked into helpless submission, the dog was held until the weapon was secured and Mr. West placed it to the creature's head and shot him to death. His bravery and presence of mind saved the whole school, for no one was bitten, although there were many very narrow escapes.

It is not known how many other dogs were bitten, before the mad animal reached the church.

Mr. West is a young farmer of the Church Hill neighborhood.

SAW HIS SWEETHEART

And the Old Man Took a Crack At Him With a Pistol.

Young Dr. Pinner, of Weaver's Store, Tenn., has for sometime been in love with Miss Sartin, daughter of the merchant at that place. Mr. Sartin has looked with disfavor upon the love affair and has been trying to break it up but without success.

Recently he notified Dr. Pinner that his attentions must cease or there would be trouble. But Dr. Pinner laughs at angry parents as well as locksmiths and he held another meeting with his sweetheart, despite the threats of the old man. Then they met Wednesday and sure enough Papa Sartin produced a weapon and attempted to give the doctor a job of picking bullets out of his own body. One shot was fired, but the aim was not "Sartin" and the ball went wild. Before the irate parent could shoot again, bystanders interfered and stopped him.

(END OF CHAPTER I.)

ELIZABETHTON.

Almost Destroyed by Sudden Flood.

Hundreds Homeless And Relief Asked From Outside Cities And Towns.

Knoxville, Tenn., May 24.—Reports from Upper East Tennessee indicate that the high water in all the rivers is receding. Elizabethton, the wrecked town presents a terrible spectacle, and the faster the water disappears the more serious becomes the situation. The Doe river has changed its course and is now running through the residence section, over the ruins of many homes. Some of the finest farms in that vicinity have been swept of their soil and barren rocks appear. Railroad communication was restored today between Johnson City and Elizabethton, over the East Tennessee & Western North Carolina railroad. The towns of Allen town and Butler have been more or less devastated. All the stores in the former place were swept away and 1,000 are without food. A train of men about left Elizabethton this morning with supplies for these towns.

The large mill of Savage & Tyler, of Knoxville, at Allen town, was totally destroyed.

Another dead body was found at Milligan below Elizabethton, last night. It is of a woman, and is unidentified. This brings the dead up to fourteen.

Citizens of Knoxville held a mass-meeting this morning to raise a relief fund. Six hundred dollars was subscribed, and more is being secured. Lee Miller, Chairman of the Relief Association at Elizabethton, wires:

"Outside aid will be a God-send." The Tennessee river here reached thirty-five feet yesterday, and has been falling since. The steamer Omega here was totally destroyed late in the afternoon.

A Famous Apple Tree.

The American Cultivator says that the original greening apple tree still stands on the farm of Solomon Browne at Mount Hygela, North Foster, K. I. The tree was a very old one when the farm was sold in 1801. The seller informed the purchaser that it was a pity the old tree was going into decay, as it produced the best fruit of any tree in the orchard. The purchaser determined to see how long he could keep it alive, and it still survives, after almost another century has been added to its venerable years. But it shows signs of final decay, and the parent of all the famous Rhode Island greenings, which has set its grafts on the orchards of almost all the world, will soon be out of a neighborhood memory. It is doubtful if there is a more famous apple tree to be found in all Pomona's groves from end to end of the earth.

How to Clean Laces—Wash Ribbons, Gloves, etc.

By Request.
It is one thing to possess things

(especially precious things) and not then dry on the table. It will look another to keep them in order. You have seen them are surrounded with a little energy and care it can be done.

To clean your gloves, keep on hand a bottle of gasoline (5 cents worth) and pour a little of it in a bowl and take several pairs of light ones at a time and wash them out in the gasoline out doors—and dry them by putting them on, and let dry on hands. White gloves can be washed beautifully this way.

If you have soiled laces, put some magnesia in a piece of paper, lay the lace upon it, sprinkle more magnesia on it, then cover with another piece of paper and put a book or weight over it to press it then leave it for several days; then remove and blow all the powder off. It will be perfectly clean. When it is necessary to wash lace—sew it upon a strip of white muslin and roll it tight around a smooth glass bottle and fasten securely; then make a good cleaning suds of warm rain water and perline and drop the bottle into the suds, and leave for several hours—take out and rinse,

A Clean Cellar.

Written for the HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY, BY S. J. H.

We should do good to our sister housekeepers and in writing urge the busy over-worked wife and mother to consider the health of the family first, and above all to look out for herself, to not make a nervous wreck of herself. We expect a clean cellar in the home of a good housekeeper, but I know by experience that we forget to have it aired as often as it should be. No doubt much of the malaria in families arises from the neglect of the cellar. The cellar air penetrates through floors and living room and hence we need to be so careful. The floors and walls should be swept this time of the year—then white-washed. To keep it pure and healthy put in an iron vessel, unaltered lime with a lump of charcoal in it and wash the walls with a weakened solution of copperas water.

Too much cannot be said or written about this kind of disinfecting and purifying the cellar. Another good method is, after sweeping is over, look and corner, throwing away all refuse matter, making clean as your own room, sprinkle hands full of borax around the barrels, boxes and edges of walls. It keeps away roaches and other insects etc., and disinfects and purifies every place. This sun should be let in freely also—When there is a furnace, all the dampers and registers should be closed before sweeping. As a sanitary measure, it is well to call in the furnace man, to have the pipes and furnace itself examined cleaned and repaired. When it is practicable open all the windows in the cellar, and let the air draw through and sweeten and purify the under domain. I consider this one of the most important points in housekeeping. The drain and water pipes and the cellar kept clean, one can enjoy life and being when they are well.

When a man and a woman become husband and wife they are joined together for a strenuous life.

"The blood is the life." Science has never gone beyond that simple statement of Scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge.
When the blood is "bad" or impure
it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgment are affected and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. No one can be well balanced in mind and body whose blood is impure. No one can have a wholesome and pure life unless the blood is pure. Pure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr.
Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.
When the blood is pure, body and brain are alike healthy and life becomes a daily happiness.

CHASED BY THREE LIONS.

Hunter in Rhodes Has a Nerve-Jacking
Adventure.

It falls to the lot of but few men
to come so near to a violent death, and yet escape unharmed as was the case with Mr. J. A. Smith, who had been working as a mechanical engineer at the Inez, says the Rhodesian Herald. Having finished the work for which he had been engaged, he left the Inez, intending to cycle into Salisbury, stopping for a couple of days at the Great Bear. He left the latter place for Gadzima, traveling along the line of railway extension. On reaching the spot where the line crosses the Unfuli river, he found as the bridge is not yet erected, that he would have to go round by the deviation and cross at the railway drift. This necessitated wading through the river and carrying the bicycle. On reaching the level again he put his machine down in order to resume his boots and socks, and feeling rather fatigued after his exertions, staid for a brief rest. While enjoying the rest his attention was drawn by a troop of very fine sable—
two magnificent bulls and three cows —making their way up from the other side of the river in the direction of a fringe of forest beyond. Feeling sufficiently refreshed, he picked up his machine, preparatory to starting again for Gadzima, where he wished to reach before it became dark. The next moment Mr. Smith received a shock which he will not forget for many a long day. About 50 yards away and slightly to his right were three lions, so intent on stalking the sable that they were not looking in his direction.

It was an awkward position, to say the least, and for a brief space he stood like one petrified, but, although his limbs were numb, his mind was active enough. The largest of the three was a huge black-maned lion, the second was a lioness, while the third was an almost full grown cub.
The latter was the first to observe Mr.
Smith and, uttering a low growl,
made for the unhappy man, who,
dropping his bicycle, staid not on the order of his going, but went for a friendly tree at top speed. He had just time to notice that the parent lions had started in the wake of their young hero, the sight, as they imagined, only serving to accelerate his pace. The cub was a safe shot, did not want me to do, but at the time I had less agitation merely anxiety for the thing she had lost.
Some of my friends and knew, with my trying, to block my every movement.
I groined around among the chair until I found it. Even then, being young and inexperienced, I did not know enough to conceal the fact of my success. I reached for it, arose triumphantly, extended my hand and gave it back to its owner, and of falsehoods, "teeth."

AN UNANSWERED QUESTION

Woman on Witness Stand Successfully Swears That She Was a Safe Shot.

It is not an ordinary lawyer who can overcome a woman's reluctance to tell her age, as the following failure proves.

"And what is your age, madam?"
was his question.

"My own," she answered, promptly.
"I understand that, madam; but how old are you?"

"I am not old, sir," with indignation.

"I beg your pardon, madam.
mean, how many years have you passed?"

"None, the years have passed me."
"How many of them have passed you?" the lawyer went on, testily.

"All. I never heard of them stopping."

"Madam, you must answer my question. I want to know your age."
"I don't know that the acquaintance is desired by the other side."

"I don't see why you insist upon refusing to answer my question," said the lawyer, coaxingly. "I am sure I would tell you how old I was, if I were asked."

"But nobody would ask you, for everybody knows you are old enough to know better than to be asking a woman her age, so there!"

And the vanquished one passed on to the next question.—London Tit-Bits.

The Presidential train reached Washington yesterday after a brief stop at Canton.

A Washington judge has granted injunction against the playing of croquet after 10 p. m.

The Court of Appeals has refused grant a further delay in the case of Caleb Powers.

Albert W. Wishard, of Indianapolis, District Attorney of Indiana, has been appointed Solicitor of Internal Revenue.

According to an opinion delivered by the Court of Appeals, the assignment of the salary of a public official before it is due is contrary to public policy and is void.

After being given permission by secretary Root to place a certain instruction on the Platt Amendment, held to be a compromise, the Cuban Convention accepted the amendment by the narrow vote of 10 to 14. The nature of the concession made is not given.

Nothing Tastes Good

And eating is simply perfunctory—done because it must be.

This is the common complaint of the dyspeptic.

If eating sparingly would cure dyspepsia, few would suffer from it long.

The only way to cure dyspepsia, which is difficult digestion, is to give vigor and tone to the stomach and the whole digestive system.

Wood's Sarsaparilla cured the niece of Frank Fay, 100 N. St., South Boston, Mass., who writes that she had been a great sufferer from dyspepsia for six years; had been without appetite and had been troubled with sour stomach and headache. She had tried many other medicines in vain. Two bottles of Wood's Sarsaparilla made her well.

Promises to cure and keeps the promises. Don't wait till you are worse, but buy a bottle today.

The Confederate Reunion at Memphis was too big for that city to handle and many of the Christian county veterans returned home at the end of the first day, being unable to get any place to sleep or anything to eat. It is estimated that there were 100,000 visitors in the city, about 50,000 more than any provision had been made to care for.

A negro was burned at a stake at Barlow, Fla., Wednesday for the outrage and murder of a white woman the day before. The negro was taken from jail and was burned at the scene of his crime in a swamp.

Dr. W. W. Ray, superintendent of the Western Asylum, visited Frankfort the first of the week. There have been no new development in the scandal of a month ago.

By a close vote the Confederate Veterans decided against Louisville and will meet next year at Dallas, Texas, a city that in many sizes too small to entertain such a gathering.

A negro woman named Julia Trabue has been sentenced to death in Louisville for murder. There have been very few women executed in Kentucky. One was hanged in Christian county about 60 years ago.

The Court of Appeals in a case from Louisville has denied third municipal officers have no legal right to compromise tax cases. The decision may effect about 1,000 cases of tax compromise made in Louisville during the past two or three years, as well as thousands made by other cities with banks and other corporations. Nearly all of the back taxes due from banks were adjusted by compromise and the re-opening of these cases would cost the banks a great deal.

Mr. C. C. Pare, of the Glasgow Times, has purchased the Franklin Favorite. Mr. Pare entered the Times office 34 years ago as "devil" in the office and filled every position from office boy to editor, as his associate editor says in noting his departure, "faithfully, ably and conscientiously."

Justice White, a Democrat, is really responsible for the decision in favor of imperialism. It he had voted with the other two Democrats, the decision would have been different; but Justice Brown enjoys the distinction of voting on both sides, causing the government to lose the Porto Rico case and win the imperialism decision.

AN ACCOMPLISHED CUBAN

Eulogizes Peruna as an Efficacious Catarrh Cure.

Gonzalo De Quesada, Secretary of the Cuban Legation in Washington.

Senor Quesada, Secretary of the Cuban Legation in Washington, is an orator born. In an article in The Outlook for July, 1898, by George Kennan, who heard Quesada speak at the Esteban Theatre, Matanzas, Cuba, he said: "I have seen many audiences under the spell of eloquent speech and in the grip of strong emotional excitement, but I have rarely witnessed such a scene as at the close of Quesada's eulogy upon the dead patriot, Marti." In a letter to The Peruna Medicine Company, written from Washington, D. C., Senor Quesada says:

"Peruna I can recommend as a very good medicine. It is an excellent strengthening tonic, and it is also an efficacious cure for the almost universal complaint of catarrh."

Peruna does not operate upon the system as the usual remedy does. It is not a local treatment. It operates as a systemic remedy. It gives tone to the weakened nerve centers, and thus gives tone to the mucous membranes that line the various organs of the body.

Catarrh is always located in some mucous membrane. Catarrh is a faulty condition of the blood vessels of these membranes. Peruna gives tone to these vessels and restores them to their natural elasticity.

Miss Martha Whitkop writes from Greenville, Mich., the following: "When I began your treatment I had catarrh of the head, nose, throat, stomach and pelvic organs. I was troubled with hawking and spitting, caught cold very easily, had almost constant headache. My stomach was all out of order, I did not sleep well, and was more tired in the morning than when I retired. I had backache and was very nervous. In fact, the catarrh had permeated my entire system, and I almost despaired of getting well."

"I wrote you for advice and you advised Peruna. I began to gain right along, and am now well. My parents praise Peruna very much. As for myself, I can't speak well enough of it. I am well and happy and enjoy my life as I never have before. I cannot remember when I have felt as well as I do now."

Congressman J. H. Blackburn, of Alabama, one of the most influential members of the House of Representatives, in a letter written from Washington, D. C., gives his endorsement to the great catarrh remedy, Peruna. In the following words:

"Your Peruna is one of the best medicines I ever tried, and no family should be without your remarkable remedy."

As a tonic and a catarrh cure I know of nothing better."

Address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O., for a free copy of "Summer Catarrh." This book treats exclusively of diseases peculiar to hot weather, is profusely illustrated and should be in the hands of every person suffering with any form of summer catarrh.

A Very Remarkable Remedy.

"It is with a great deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Druggist A. W. Sawtelle, of Hartford, Conn. "A lady customer, seeing the medicine exposed for sale on my show case, said to me: 'I really believe that medicine saved my life the past summer while at the shore, and she became so enthusiastic that I at once made up my mind to recommend it in the future. Recently a gentleman came into my store so overcome with colic pains that he sank at once to the floor. I gave him a dose of this remedy which helped him. I repeated the dose and in fifteen minutes he left my store smilingly informing me that he felt as well as ever.'" Sold by all druggists.

Of all kinds are being made on other binders, but notwithstanding all this, we will continue to do the bulk of the binder business for

TWO REASONS:

FIRST--Because the Deering is the BEST MACHINE MADE and saves four inches of twine over all others every time it ties a knot, and twine costs money.

SECOND--The vital question of repairs cuts a big figure. We have kept repairs for the Deering for years and will continue to do so. Break a brand new binder* even and it is worthless unless repairs are within reach.
